Says WILL ROGERS

BEVERLY HILLS.—Well, all I know is just what I read in the papers. With Mr. Coolidge writing for the papers why we got a lot of new reading to do now.

He had one in the other day that kinder jarred all of us, and made us wonder if he wasn't having a Ghost Writer to some of his stuff. It advised the working man to spend his money, and buy everything that he could possibly afford, and in that way help out the whole economy. Now that it would put more money into circulation, and make more jobs for those that had none. Now that is absolutely going against all the laws we have been brought up to: we have always been taught to save and put by every dollar that we could, and not buy anything unless we absolutely needed it, and to spend no money for things that we could do without. Now all at once we are advised by everybody to start spending, so it will help somebody else. Imagine telling: working man to spend, that if he don't put his money into circulation why he won't have a job very long. That is what Mr. Coolidge said. Now that sounds so simple, but here is a man that the whole basis of his policy is based on his economy and thrift, and all at once to help out a situation, why he says "Spend." So its hard to tell what to believe nowadays.

Speaking of Prosperity, which about all we are doing is speaking of it, I read with great interest recently the celebrating of the ninety second birthday of our genial benefactor Mr. Rockefeller Sr., and it brought back many happy thoughts of my meeting with him every winter when I would play my little "talk dates" at Daytona Beach, Florida, he would always come to the Auditorium and bring all the people from his winter household, servants and all, and the three years I did that, he was right there and he would not miss a single "Gag." He was as keen and alert as anyone in the audience, and was always well versed on Topics, as on Oil Gravity. He knew as much about the disbursement of money as he did what the "Dutch Shell" were doing. I always had a few local jokes about him and would go down off the "Rostrom" and shake hands with him, and he would quietly ask me to come to his home on the following morning and have breakfast with him, at eight o'clock. Then after a fine breakfast, when he would give us all a dime each as he came down in the morning, we would go nearby to the Golf Course, and he would play eight holes. It took a pretty tough day, that kept him away. The reason for the eight holes only was that the little hole was over by a back road where he could have his car meet him, and go direct home from that hole. I don't play the game. (Not even at three at night for money.) But he made lots of the holes in what you call Par. He was always straight down the course, not so terribly far, but ON IT. The old fellow looks like he is extremely happy and satisfied, and I think feels that he has been of some service to his Country as well as to the passing. Motoring. He has not once filled the Country's tanks, but has filled many a diseased man with hope of a cure.

Just about a week ago the Prince of Wales made almost a prayer over the Radio that England might develop some one in their country comparable to Rockefeller in philanthropy.

That about the biggest single praise that has come his way.—When the future ruler of a great Kingdom asks for a similar man in their country, you must have accomplished something.

The Lindberghs have always known they would call the Baby Charles Augustus, but what has held them up all this time was whether to use the Jr on the end or not. So they finally decided to use it.

The pictures show him sleeping with his eyes shut and his mouth open, so he don't take after his father. He slept with his eyes open and a his mouth shut.

Us ignorant people laugh at spiritualists, but when they die they go mighty peaceful and happy. After all, about all there is to living is to go away smiling. Maybe they have got "an ace in the hole" at that.

We got an epidemic of crazy women parachute jumpers—going just for the jump. Shooting your husband has got so it don't land you on the front page. So, they have traded their guns for parachutes and are trying to jump and land on it.

Its never a real aviator that makes an exhibition jump. They know they were made to save useful lives in an emergency and not to put on a show with. We are all against having any more laws, but one against women parachute jumpers we would go for.

BIG CROWD ATTENDS OPENING OF RIALTO

NEW RIALTO THRILLS PATRONS BY ITS MAGNIFICENCE

Throngs Attend Opening Program Tuesday Night

The big thing in Grayling this week was the re-opening of the New Rialto theatre. Out of the ashes of the past there has grown up one of the finest picture theatres that is to be found anywhere—the very last word in cinema equipment.

People of Grayling and surrounding towns had looked forward to the opening of the theatre for several weeks and on Tuesday night when the big event took place the theatre was filled to capacity.

People who had not been privileged to peek into the place while the finishing touches were being put on, were quite amazed at the magnitude of the place and at the completeness and grandeur of its equipment and its furnishings.

The floor of the lobby is covered with marvelous mats inlaid by a border of cream tinted tile. The foyer floor is covered with a beautiful, soft carpet that extends down the four aisles. As one sinks down into the comfortable, upholstered seats he could easily imagine that he was in a playhouse of a metropolitan city.

Upon being seated one is first attracted by the stage with its marvelous draperies and curtains, and as the curtain parts, the large screen, as was explained in this paper in our last week's edition, the "Magna-scope" is a large screen which enables one to see pictures in a new and unusual manner.

At intervals in the side walls there are panels inlaid with heavy tork, attractive in their appearance and preventing sound vibrations.

The opening was marked by a special program.

R. J. Elliott of Detroit who is assisting Mr. Olson in opening the new theatre, stepped from between the curtains and extended a hearty welcome to the patrons and wanted them to know that this was their theatre and wanted them to be free to offer suggestions for making things better.

Mayor Chris W. Olson, on behalf of the people of Grayling, complimented Mr. Olson on the beauty and attractiveness of his new theatre and assured him that the home people appreciated his efforts and that they wished him success.

Co-incidental with the day, the contests for the choice of queens to represent the towns in the Grayling district—Roscommon, Lewiston, Frederic, and Grayling—were concluded that day, with girls from each of the four towns here in Grayling to be judged by experienced and impartial judges.

For several weeks past the people had been casting their votes for the popular girl and there was a lot of interest and they wanted to know the winners. Therefore this was a most opportune time to announce the winners and to introduce them to the public from before the spotlight.

Mr. Schumann, chairman of the district contest, announced the winners and introduced the young ladies to the audience. The winners were: Miss Edith Bidvia who will represent her home town as "Miss Grayling," Miss Lovina Wright was selected as "Miss Lewiston," Rosalie Stammer as "Miss Frederic," and Miss Ethel Beckford as "Miss Roscommon." Each of these young ladies will represent her home town at the Water Carnival at Bay City next week.

T. W. Hanson, president of the Board of Trade, also extended the well wishes of the members of that organization and of the people of Grayling. He told something of the early history of the town and of the days following the timber and now sees Grayling well on the way toward greater opportunities as a center for recreation. He contended that with the opening of the New Rialto theatre it meant added prestige and added stimulus to progress of our city.

1—Scene at the formal opening of the $200,000 Mount Carmel highway tunnel in Zion national park, Utah, with governors of fourteen states participating. 2—Burial of Maj. Gen. W. C. Neville, commandant of the machine corps in Arlington national cemetery. 3—Laying the famous mosaic of flowers on the principal street of Genzano, Italy, plaque, upon which was engrossed the words.

A MARK OF HONOR HAS BEEN AWARDED THIS THEATRE FOR THE HIGH QUALITY OF ITS PRODUCTION OF SOUND PICTURES

EXHIBITORS HERALD WORLD

Mr. Olson had been called to the stage for the presentation and when he appeared from between the crimson curtains he was given a loud applause. He accepted the plaque with a thank you and a how to the audience and modestly retired.

As a part of the regular program of the evening, selections were presented by the Rialto "Phantom Organ." Laurel and Hardy furnished the comedy feature, appearing in "Hog Wild." A cartoon, "Maybe Yes—Maybe No." The feature of the evening was "Our Blushing Brides," featuring Joan Crawford. It was a very pleasing program and the crowd comfortably seated in a room that was thoroughly ventilated and of even, comfortable temperature, and amidst delightful surroundings, there could be no more to wish for.

The first performance filled every seat and the second saw most of the seats occupied.

On each end of the platform were huge baskets of flowers and ferns, and in the foyer were flowers and ferns. A horsemesh and pedestal of roses bore a message "Heaps of Luck" and was signed Grayling Board of Trade. Another large floral horse-shoe, nearly six feet tall was presented by the Schumann family of Detroit and Grayling and carried a message of "Success to the Rialto Theatre."

There was also a basket of flowers from the same family. Other beautiful baskets crowded the foyer room and the stage, bearing messages of good wishes from the people of Grayling and the surrounding towns. The following: Carl W. Peterson, Village Council; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Joseph; Mate and Bill Powell, and the Landsberg family. Another very beautiful basket of flowers contained no card and nobody seemed to know who the donor was.

Waldemar Olson, who is in the employ of the National Theatre Supply Co. of Detroit, was home to assist decisions upon when they based their George to get ready for the opening. Also Mr. E. J. Elliott assisted in the program of opening the theatre. Mr. Earl Annette of Detroit, a talking machine engineer, assisted in the projecting booth.

The event of the opening of the new theatre is now a matter of history. There is only the best of feeling on the part of the public toward this new institution and we feel confident that this sentiment will continue. Mr. Olson is giving the theatre just as good shows as any theatre one might attend in Detroit or other metropolis. We don't have to go out of town for this class of entertainment. It is but right that we should receive the patronage of the public and it is up to each of us to help by letting outside friends know that they will find good shows here each night. This theatre needs assistance from out of town as well as the loyal support of those who reside here.

MISS BIDVIA CHOSEN 'MISS GRAYLING'

JUDGES PICK WINNERS FOR FREDERIC, ROSCOMMON AND LEWISTON

After several weeks of voting to decide who would be the choice by the people of the young ladies to represent their respective towns—Frederic, Roscommon, Lewiston and Grayling, the votes were counted Monday morning and the five receiving the highest number of votes then were to be eligible to come before the judges for final selection of one from each town.

As a result each town was represented by some very attractive young ladies at the final contest held in Grayling Tuesday evening.

Grayling selected for its five girls the following:

Emily Engel ..... 123,060
Jane Keyport ..... 60,590
Marie Brown ..... 41,740
Helen Lietz ..... 28,650
Edith Bidvia ..... 18,280

The judges engaged for the occasion were selected by the Water Carnival committee of Bay City and were physicians and surgeons of the medical regiment in Camp Grayling, as follows: Maj. James Humphrey, Monroe; Capt. Albert Hallard, Benton Harbor; Capt. M. R. Slatery, Bay City; Lt. E. C. Smith, Bay City; Col. Hanna, Detroit.

A special committee of ladies of the Board of Trade Auxiliary with Mrs. Clippert as chairman had arranged headquarters at Michelson Memorial church parlors. She was assisted by Miss Joseph and Mrs. Schumann, such conveniences as needed, awaiting them.

It was a severe task for the judges and a responsibility that they didn't take lightly. It took them fully two hours to make their decisions. Among the things upon which they based their decisions were: Face; form; posture; personality and education. After the first appearance of the several groups they were recalled several times, in groups and singly. The contestants were identified by numbers.

There were no formal introductions between the judges and contestants so that there could be no outside influences to cause embarrassment—all were strangers. The contest, we believe, was conducted as competently as any set of judges could have handled it.

The following girls were declared winners:

Edith Bidvia—"Miss Grayling."
Jane Keyport, alternate.
Rosalie Stammer—"Miss Frederic."
Doris Corsant, alternate.
Lovina Wright—"Miss Lewiston."
Joan Kennedy, alternate.
Ethel Beckford—"Miss Roscommon."
Hilda Diffell, alternate.

Immediately after the judging the girls were photographed in their bath.

ing-sets after which they dressed and with their chaperones, were taken for an auto ride to Camp Grayling and to the Hanson dining hall at Lake Margrethe where they were given a very enjoyable banquet.

The evening the winners appeared before the audience at the first and second performances at the theatre where they were formally introduced.

Next Wednesday these winners will go to Bay City to participate in the water carnival and to enter into competition with about 70 girls for the honors of "Miss Eastern Michigan." We feel confident that the four towns included in the Grayling district are each sending representatives that are going to stand excellent chances of winning that honor.

Lots of luck to you, girls!

It has been a lot of work to handle the contest and the Publicity Committee of the Board of Trade that had that responsibility, is indebted to a lot of people for their assistance. Morgan Paige had charge of counting the votes in Grayling and found it to be a big job, requiring many hours each week, but he did it in a most satisfactory manner.

Mrs. J. J. Kennedy was in charge of the contest at Lewiston and aroused a lot of interest among the young people there and brot to Grayling a most attractive lot of young ladies.

Mrs. Wm. Long was the chairman at Frederic, and also they got a late start, that town sent in three very attractive young ladies.

Jess Green put the campaign over in Roscommon and as usual that fine little town was well represented here Tuesday.

Also there was a very good response on the part of the stores in Grayling in putting out the bafets.

While the plan selecting a "Miss Grayling" may not have been just as some might believe it should have been, still it was carried on exactly as requested by the Water Carnival committee at Bay City.

Mrs. Clippert and her committee worked hard to have the church parlors conveniently arranged and tastefully decorated for judging last Tuesday; planned entertainment and the banquet, and in general gave the young ladies a most pleasant afternoon.

That meant a lot of effort and work and deserves the appreciation of the public as well as the executive committee. Those assisting Mrs. Clippert were: Mrs. Reagan, Mrs. Jarmin, Mrs. Joseph, Mrs. Schumann, Mrs. Keyport and Mrs. Geo. Olson were in charge of the entertainment; Mrs. Bauman and Mrs. Oscar Hanson looked after the autos for the ride to the lake.

Grayling will be represented in the carnival parade at Bay City with a float, and it will be a good one. The affair begins Wednesday for the "Queens" and on Tuesday for the public program and lasts to Saturday night.

Dr. R. A. Phillips graduated cum laude from the Washington University School of Medicine St. Louis. He received his pre-medical work at the University of Iowa. While at the latter school he was on the swimming team. While in school he was Director of Water Safety and First Aid for the Duluth Chapter for three summers and has been on the faculty of various Life Saving and First Aid Institutes in the Midwestern Area for the past five years. Dr. Phillips has had various special first aid and life saving assignments for the American Red Cross in addition he has acted as a special First Aid instructor for the St. Louis Red Cross Chapter. He was one of the charter members of the Menominee River Patrol, a group of volunteer life guards of the St. Louis Chapter.

M. N. G. FINISHES TRAINING SAT.

Camp Grayling, July 24.—Michigan National Guard troops were returning today from two days in the field where they attacked a defensive problem prepared by Lt. Col. Franklin T. Burt and other Army instructors.

Leaving camp early Wednesday the guard organized a zone between Bear Swamp and the north end of Higgins Lake, within the Hanson reservation. They set up an outpost line of resistance—battle position and took part in a counter-attack and withdrawal to reserve battle position.

With the guardsmen went most of their equipment. The infantry took its machine guns, howitzers, one-pounders and trench mortars; the 119th Field Artillery its 75MM. guns and the 107th Medical Regiment its ambulances and litters. Aviators made reconnaissances and photographs of the "enemy" areas.

Sleeping Wednesday night on the ground and eating from field kitchens, the "war" problem gave the guardsmen a real taste of wartime. It was the climax of two weeks' training.

Camp will officially close Saturday with the departure of all units except the 119th Field Artillery, which arrived later than the other regiments. The field artillery will leave the evening of Thursday, July 31. It will conduct firing operations next week.

Brig. Gen. B. Clemens, in command of Camp McCoy, at Spartan Wis., was a guest of the camp for several days this week. General Clemens declared the best training is being carried on by guard camps, except for certain Army groups, where he attended the public and parochial schools and at about the age of 18 years started working for the Michigan Central and had been in their employ continuously since.

In about the year 1902 he came to Grayling with his parents and on July 19, 1911 was united in marriage to Eva E. Robinson. To this union one daughter, Elaine, was born, who with the widow, survives.

Some time ago Mr. Reagan received an injury in a railroad accident of a broken hip and since then his health had been none too vigorous. However in his younger days baseball and football circles were not complete without "Bob" and he could always be depended upon to give a good account of himself.

Mr. Reagan was one of the best liked employees on the Michigan Central. He had a reputation of honesty and faithfulness in all he attempted to do and his word was as good as this bond. Robert Reagan was a splendid, clean citizen and his death is a distinct loss to Grayling.

He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and held the office of grand knight in the latter organization for several years. He was also a member of the Grayling Board of Trade and the Grayling Golf club.

Surviving the deceased besides his widow and daughter Elaine, are three sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Anna M. Insley, Mrs. C. W. Skinner, Detroit; Mrs. Guy Peterson, Newton, Wis.; Mrs. C. J. Francis, Reagan, West Branch, Ohio; who have arrived in the city to be in attendance at the funeral here.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Malenfant, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley W. Insley, Mrs. Margaret and Marius Insley, Mrs. C. Skinner, Mr. and Mrs. James Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Mason and sons Edward and Frederick, Detroit.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the members of the family in their sad bereavement.

ROBT. REAGAN DIES WHILE ON DUTY

WAS ONE OF GRAYLING'S MOST ESTIMABLE CITIZENS

Robert M. Reagan, conductor for the M. C. R. R. company was found dead in his waycar Tuesday morning at Mackinaw City. Mr. Reagan left Grayling on a run north Monday evening and when the train was due at Mackinaw City at 1:55 a. m., he did not appear on the scene, brakeman Holger Schmidt went into the waycar and thinking he had fallen asleep, tried to arouse him and found that he had passed away. Mr. Reagan's death came as a severe shock to his family and hosts of friends.

A physician who was called at Mackinaw said death was due to valvular disturbance of the heart.

The remains were brought to his home here Tuesday night accompanied by his brother-in-law Joseph Malenfant of Cheboygan and Harry L. Johnston of Bay City. The funeral will be held tomorrow (Friday) morning at St. Mary's church at nine o'clock. The pallbearers will include Fred K. Welsh, Holger F. Peterson, Louis Herbison, Lorane Sparkes, Spencer Meistrup and E. A. Mason, local council members of the local council Knights of Columbus will be honorary pallbearers.

Mr. Reagan was born in Caro in 1881 and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Reagan, both deceased. The family later resided in Bay City where he attended the public and parochial schools and at about the age of 18 years started working for the Michigan Central and had been in their employ continuously since.

In about the year 1902 he came to Grayling with his parents and on July 19, 1911 was united in marriage to Eva E. Robinson. To this union one daughter, Elaine, was born, who with the widow, survives.

Gov. Green and his staff arrived in Grayling last Saturday about noon to be on hand for the Governor's review day of the M. N. G. They came by airplane. They had dinner at camp, went for an inspection of "The Pines," the Fish hatchery and then played golf at the Grayling course, and in the evening attended the governor's ball at the Officers' Club house.

Sunday morning they attended the annual memorial services at the camp at which Rev. Fr. Dunigan gave the memorial address. In the afternoon the Governor attended the review of the guards.

It is estimated that there were between fifteen and twenty thousand people in attendance at the review. It was an immense crowd and in spite of the thousands of cars the traffic was handled without mishap. As has been the good fortune ever since the camp was instituted here, review day was fair and warm.

KEEP THE KIDS OUT

Doing a "stunt" craze has at last invaded the ranks of the younger generation. It began when a kid over in Wisconsin started roosting in a tree and now it is spreading over the nation. Bicycle endurance tests have also been added to the roosting mania. Some newspapers are encouraging the boys and girls to enter these contests, which is bad for the kids, physicians assert.

Although he considered them as crazy affairs the average citizen had no particular objection to his child sitting, dancing, marionettes, or endurance flights as long as they did not interfere with his pursuit of life, liberty and happiness. It was enough punishment to find his favorite newspaper exploiting such asinine attempts for notoriety as being matters of news value, without being called upon to lend encouragement by his presence. Therefore he registered no objections.

But he does have an interest in the children. He will regard any attempt at exploiting them by newspapers or so-called managers as dangerous to the growing generation. He will demand that stunts which threaten the life and health of innocent participants be discouraged. His protests will be heard—and heeded.

WHEN FORESTS BURN

Nature has provided many things for your comfort and pleasure, one thing of which is finer than the wooded hills and valleys that greet the visitor sojourning in vacation land. But even nature is not proof against carelessness.

This is the season of the year when danger from forest fires is greatest. Beautiful forest areas are not only a valuable commercial asset, but have an untold value in attracting visitors. Where lakes and trees abound we find people seeking rest and solitude. When timber fires denude the land the loss is universal. It has been truthfully said that "Everybody loses when timber burns."

During the summer months thousands of people visit the timbered sections of Michigan. Thousands of acres have been set aside by the state to provide beauty spots for recreation purposes. As a visitor you are welcome. All your host expects is carefulness on your part. Be careful of fire for the tiniest blaze may grow to light an inferno on a hundred burning hills.

See that your camp fire is extinguished before you depart—be sure to break your match before throwing it away—don't cast lighted cigars or cigarettes into the dried grasses of the roadside—it is because of these things that many fires are started. Michigan pleads with you to help preserve her beauty for coming generations.

THE NAVAL TREATY

A study of the London Naval Treaty from an economic viewpoint brings to light some material advantages and also some savings in cost through the battle ship holiday. The treaty limits the naval overhead, including maintenance and construction costs, up to the year 1936. If we could be assured that both Great Britain and Japan would be content to maintain their present fleets without any additional construction up to 1936 then our naval

FREE CHEST CLINIC
HERE AUG. 6-7-8

A tri-county free chest clinic, for Crawford, Otsego, and Roscommon counties, will be held on August 6, 7, and 8 in the Court House, Grayling, according to the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. Examinations of the chest will be given on these days without charge to residents of the three counties who suspect the presence of tuberculosis in themselves.

The tri-county clinic plan, under which a clinic will be held in one center for three days, with two doctors in attendance, represents an attempt on the part of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association to give a higher grade of clinic service. Formerly brief clinics were held in one center in each county, and these clinics were found to be unsatisfactory in several respects. If the plan works out successfully here, the same method probably will be used in other parts of the state.

Since Crawford county is supporting the clinic with a $300.00 appropriation, the first day of the clinic will be devoted entirely to the county, and on the second and third days the remaining two days will also be reserved for county residents. The equivalent of one doctor's services for four days will therefore be given the county. One day's service will be reserved for each of the other two counties, Otsego's day being on August 7, and Roscommon's on August 8. Christmas seal funds will finance the service given the latter two counties.

Examining physicians for the Michigan Tuberculosis Association state that cough and expectoration, a continued rapid feeling, hoarseness, fever, rapid pulse, chills, loss of strength, weight, and of appetite are dangerous signals of tuberculosis and should lead to an examination for the disease.

JOHN PHILIP SOUSA WILL CONDUCT HIS ORCHESTRA AND BAND AT INTERLOCHEN SUNDAY

Lieut. Commander John Philip Sousa, the March King of the world, will be guest-conductor at both the 3:00 o'clock afternoon performance and the 7:00 o'clock evening performance at the Interlochen Bowl. This is Central Standard Time. Lieut. Commander Sousa is making a special trip from New York City to be the conductor of these splendid young musicians. The Band numbers about 150 players and the Orchestra 250.

In the afternoon there will be a combined band concert, using the bands from Elk Rapids, Frankfort, Branchburg, Elberta, Honor, Traverse City, Manistee, Lexington, Kingsley, Reed City, Cadillac, and Buckley. There will be about five hundred performers in this massed band program. They will play several of the famous Sousa marches, including "Stars and Stripes" and "Semper Parvulus." This will be a gala performance, taking the last part of the program. One should come early to be sure of getting seats.

The speech of Dictator Joseph Stalin before the recent Communist Congress at Moscow filled thirty-seven pages of fine print. If the Russian peasants could eat words fewer of them would starve to death.

Mr. Albert Pochelon and daughter Emma Louise spent the week end with the family at the cabin.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Small are visiting at Mio a few days.

Some of the Lovells folks went to Traverse City to pick cherries.

Mr. Wm. Watlin and sons of Detroit spent a few days at the Loud cabin.

GRAYLING LADY PASSES AWAY
SUDDENLY

Mrs. Ida M. Cliff passed away suddenly at nine o'clock Saturday evening at Mercy Hospital. The lady's death was a distinct shock to relatives and close friends, for she seemed apparently in good health. Her demise was quite co-incidental.

Together with a party of friends, Mrs. Cliff and her son Harold went to the airport Saturday evening for an airplane ride. It had long been the desire of Mrs. Cliff to take a ride in the air and it was perhaps one of the happiest moments of her life when she and her son took off from the ground in one of the cabin planes. They went up to a distance of perhaps two thousand feet when Mrs. Cliff seemed to be gasping for breath. Lieutenant Nichols, the pilot of the plane, landed just as it was possible and when Mrs. Cliff alighted from the plane, she was not able to regain her breath. She was rushed to Mercy Hospital where efforts were made to revive her but she died soon after her arrival there. The cause of death was given as acute dilatation of the arteries of the heart.

Mrs. Cliff had resided in Grayling since a year ago last May, coming here with her son Harold, who is employed by the State Highway Department as Superintendent of the Maintenance division. She was sixty-nine years of age. The family formerly lived in Ionia, Michigan, where Mr. Cliff passed away about nine years ago. During the time she had lived in our community, Mrs. Cliff had made many friends, who are grieved to learn of her demise. The flowers were many and beautiful and expressed the high esteem in which the family is held.

The deceased is survived by six daughters, Mrs. Wilbert Somerville of Boyne City; Mrs. Louis Phillips of DeWitt; Mrs. Wm. Harves of Rushville, Indiana; Mrs. Edward Waldron of Ionia; Mrs. Earl Van Zant of Charlevoix and Mrs. Isaac Buitendorp of Muskegon; and one son, Harold, of this city. Mrs. Somerville, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Waldron and Mrs. Van Zant arrived Sunday owing to their mother's death.

A short service was conducted at the family home Tuesday morning by Rev. West of Gaylord, after which the remains were taken to Ionia, Michigan, for burial. The funeral was held on Wednesday and interment was in Highland Park cemetery beside the body of her late husband.

BAY CITY WATER CARNIVAL
NEXT WEEK

The stage is set for the second annual Eastern Michigan Water Carnival. Final arrangements are being perfected for the gala watersports show at Bay City July 31, Aug. 1 and 2.

Glittering among the array of talented assembled to please the hundred thousand visitors expected will be many whose names are prominent the country over, and many others well known in their own section.

Events brand new, events which are at least novel, and of the commonplace, events such a number as to lift them out of the ordinary will grace the Carnival bill of fare. Every minute of the three days of jollification will be packed full of interesting happenings.

There will be over 70 girls present for the queen contest Thursday night, July 31. These come from the far-flung north and south reaches of Eastern Michigan, and one of them will be crowned Carnival queen, given many gifts, honored, and sent to Florida, next winter as a reward for her beauty and charm.

There will be about 200 boats assembled for the various races of the outboard and motorboat regatta, sanctioned by the American Power Boat association. These contests will run Friday and Saturday, August 1 and 2.

The swimming will attract a record number of entries, representing many of the star teams of the state, high school teams, camps and other recreational divisions.

Johnny Weismuller and Helen Meany, swimmers extraordinary, will come to the Carnival to exhibit the skill that has won them Olympic titles in days gone by. Their exhibitions are scheduled for Friday afternoon and evening and Saturday afternoon.

The swimming championship of the state, under the auspices of the N. A. A. P., will come off Friday afternoon and evening.

There will be a gala float parade, miles long, through the streets of Bay City Thursday, July 31, in the afternoon to open the Carnival.

Many of the towns participating in the Carnival besides Bay City will be represented in the parade by floats. On these out-of-town floats will be carried the girls of the towns who will compete in the queen contest.

While final preparations are being perfected for the Carnival itself, a score of communities are choosing queens this week. Monday, July 21, saw the selection of girls in Cheboygan district, and on Tuesday they were chosen in Grayling and Pinconning districts.

Wednesday saw choices made in Alpena, Flint, Saginaw, Port Huron, Lansing, Adrian, Hillsdale, Lansing and Owosso. On Thursday came the contests in East Tawas and Midland districts, and Friday at Bay City.

The last contest of the lot is scheduled for Monday, July 28, at Clare, where five towns will be represented.

ITALY STARTS HUGE NAVAL PROGRAMME

The Navy Recruiting Station, Detroit, learns that after receiving the detailed report of Admiral Siriani, Italian naval expert at the London naval conference, the Italian Government has decided to lay down 29 new warships. This programme includes a total of 42,000 tons, including 10,000 cruiser, two 5,100 ton cruisers, four 1,240 ton destroyers and 22 submarines. This programme is in line with Italy's consistent policy of strengthening her naval forces.

Local Happenings

There will be no service at the Danish church next Sunday.

Betty Deffrain is spending a couple of weeks in Detroit. Fred Deffrain just returned home from a visit there.

Mrs. and Mrs. R. E. Nichols (Neve Stinchcomb) of Flint announce the birth of a son, Ralph Emerson Jr., on July 22nd. Mrs. Nichols was a former teacher of Grayling schools.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Gothro entertained over the week end the former's brothers Tom Gothro of Detroit and R. Gothro of Cleveland. Their nephew Murry, King of Flint was also at the Gothro home.

SALVATION ARMY TO SOLICIT FUNDS

DRIVE TO BE HELD WEEK OF JULY 28

Envoy W. A. Brown of the Salvation Army is in the village this week preparing for the annual Home Service Appeal to be conducted during the coming week. Envoy Brown stated Wednesday morning that he hoped the people will respond liberally and assist in filling the $250 quota set for Grayling.

A tag day is conducted by the Army, and will be held here next week.

The Salvation Army work in Michigan during the past winter has been twice as heavy as usual, and every dollar will help to continue the work. Mr. Brown stated. The local bank is to act as temporary treasurer for the drive, and money may be paid there at any time.

This year, each business place contributing to the cause will be left a card stating that it has given to the drive, thus putting a step to further soliciting within a year for the same cause.

Endorsing the drive and urges all to contribute as liberally as possible.

ELDORADO NUGGETS

Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Stevens and sons John William and Robert, of Ann Arbor spent the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Stevens.

Mrs. Morton Kline and daughters Helen and Elizabeth, and Mr. and Mrs. James F. Crane motored to Gaylord Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lamm returned to their home in Chicago Friday after spending the last two weeks with their daughter, Mrs. Conrad Welnes.

The Daily Vacation Bible School, under the supervision of R. D. Chambers of West Branch, is now being held at the Eldorado School house; Miss Helen and Elizabeth Kline, teachers.

Mrs. Lou Terry and daughter of Howell are entertaining Mrs. J. Skarratt and son of Clarkston for two weeks at their summer home here.

Miss Annabelle Johnson returned to her home at Hudson last week after spending some time with her father, Wiley Johnson.

Mrs. Joseph Weber of Howell spent a few days last week with her daughter, Mrs. George Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. John Floeter, accompanied by their niece and husband of Detroit, spent Sunday with Mrs. Mattie Funsch.

HIGHLY ESTEEMED FREDERIC LADY PASSED AWAY

On Thursday afternoon friends and relatives gathered at the M. P. church on the occasion to pay their last respects to Mrs. Walter B. Wheeler, whose death on Monday evening came as a distinct shock to her family and the people of this village.

Mrs. Wheeler, formerly Elizabeth Ann Shaw, was born in Norfolk county, Canada, June 20, 1887. She came to Michigan about 45 years ago and became the bride of Walter B. Wheeler. Their married life had been spent in Standish, Grayling and the past twenty-two years in Fredric. To this union were born three children, Jerome of Boyne City; John of Raquette Lake, N. Y.; and Silas of Gaylord.

Prayer was held at the home followed by services at the M. P. church. Rev. D. N. Earl bringing the message of comfort. Interment took place at Elmwood cemetery.

Mrs. Wheeler was a member of the Lady Macabees, of Grayling, of which eight ladies acted as honorary palbearers. The flowers were many and beautiful, sentiments of sympathy from her many friends. There was a large crowd of sorrowing relatives in attendance at the funeral from Standish, Boyne City, Gaylord and Saginaw, and her many friends of this community.

Besides her husband and sons, the deceased is survived by one brother, William Shaw of Temple, Mich.; three sisters, Mrs. Mary Sheppard, Simco, Canada; Mrs. Eunice Benson and Mrs. Henry Pratt, Saginaw. Also 31 grandchildren survive.

FREE OF STOMACH TROUBLE THANKS TO NEW KONJOLA

Attended At Quick And Complete
Relief New And Different
Medicine Gave Him

MR. D. W. GOUGH

"Before I tried Konjola, my stomach was in such poor shape that food did me no good," said Mr. D. W. Gough, 354 Ferry Avenue, Pontiac, Michigan. "It did not digest properly, and I had pains in the pit of my stomach at all times. Terrific headaches made it almost impossible for me to do my work. I tried different medicines, but could not get the slightest relief."

"I heard and heard a great deal about this new medicine, Konjola, and thought I would give it a trial. The first bottle did me no more good than any other medicine tried. Four bottles relieved every pain in my stomach and the headaches are a thing of the past. I am going on with this wonderful medicine, knowing that new and glorious health will be my reward."

That's the kind of medicine Konjola is—one that keeps the faith; that brings results; that makes good. From six to eight bottles are recommended as a complete treatment. Konjola is sold in Grayling, Mich., at the Mac & Cidley Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

WOULD RULE MOTOR BOATS

Following a ruling from the attorney general that the Department of Conservation has no authority to regulate in any way the operation of motor boats on inland lakes, the Oakland County Board of Supervisors has taken action on complaints of county residents by adopting an ordinance placing severe restrictions on the operation of motor boats on the inland lakes of that county. The signature of Governor Fred W. Green will be necessary to make the ordinance effective.

The Department is constantly receiving complaints from property owners along these lakes, but according to the ruling only the County Board of Supervisors because of the absence of state legislation, have authority to make regulations.

Taboo Still Live
Hard Kurdish Fighters
Sarnoff Sees Ahead
No Bets Against Jones

Civilized men taught at "taboo" that keep a woman in the South seas from touching a canoe, make it a crime to touch a man with your hands after you have touched a horse, and forbid the eating of certain animals, etc.

But the taboo is not dead, even in civilization. Horror seized the British house of commons when a laborite member, Beckett, laid hands on the heavy mace that lies on the table in front of the speaker and ran toward the door with it.

The mace symbolizes the power of the house of commons. Beckett was suspended, 321 to 4.

Kurds from Persia, convinced that Kemal Pasha, Turkish dictator, flouts the will of Mohammed, undertake to correct him. Fifteen thousand of them, pouring in from Persia, made their headquarters on Mount Ararat, burning, robbing and stealing, as proof of their fondness for Allah and the prophet.

Kemal killed about 15,000, nearly all of them. But the Kurds, desperately courageous as is usual with Mohammedans, say they will have to kill all of them to make them love.

Their treatment of one Turkish aviator whom they shot down, immediately gouging out his eyes, proves their earnestness.

Kemal's bombing planes are searching the Mount Ararat crevices where Kurds hide. A change from the day when the ark landed peacefully.

Armenians are doing what they can to help the Kurds kill the Turks. In the light of history you can hardly blame them, but they may regret it. Kemal promises to wipe out their villages.

David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation of America, like all successful men, has imagination as well as executive capacity. He says that television, providing "a theater for every home, although the stage may be only a cabinet, and a curtain the screen, is, I believe, the distinct promise of the new era of electrical entertainment."

Mr. Sarnoff sees in the latest gift of science to the human race the promise of "a new culture." Ten million homes in the United States now "draw nightly upon the programs of the air for the family entertainment."

Mr. Sarnoff, young and remarkably able, believes that this generation will see the greatest actors, orators, clergymen and singers moving and hear their voices in their homes. That is modern magic.

Bobby Jones taught an anti-gambling lesson to Lloyd, the great British insurance company. At the beginning of this golf season, Lloyd, which takes all kinds of wagers, bet 50 to 1 that Bobby Jones would not win the four great golf championships in succession. Now he has won three of them, and those that bet against him, seeking to insure themselves against loss, request Lloyd to bet that Jones will not win his fourth match.

Lloyd says: "No. It will cost you one thousand pounds to get a thousand pounds insurance against Jones' victory," which means that the victory is considered certain.

New York, that recently became the money center of the world, now, to its disgust, seems destined to be the crime center of the United States. Racketeers, gunmen and other experts, driven out of Chicago by police energy, are alleged to be gathering in the bigger, richer city. Robberies of various kinds, from banks to delicatessen stores; a bomb explosion in the Fifth avenue district, business and trade racketeers of all kinds testify to the energy with which the alleged Chicago rackets do their work.

Police say their difficulties are increased by the unwillingness of citizens to tell what they know. Business men submit to racketeering to avoid bombing.

Hallstones six inches in diameter fell recently in Bulgaria, killing five, including two children on their way to school. Boats are missing in the Black sea.

Herr Hollticher, German author, has seen us and reports to his countrymen that Colonel Lindbergh and Will Rogers are the two most typical Americans of today.

He says: "The savings bank book constitutes the crowning point of an American's life work." And our greatest amusement, he finds, is evading the prohibition law.

Some American will go to Germany and say that a large "stein" of beer is the German's highest ambition, and then the foolish account will be even.

Every college professor and politician who talks about the glories of internationalism has some additional scheme to suggest whereby American interests shall be sacrificed to foreign interests. The American people have given till it hurts, but they are now told that they must give till they go broke.

NAVY TESTS DIVING BELL

Navy Recruiting Station, Detroit:

Tests of a submarine diving bell at the New London, Conn., submarine base, will be undertaken in August in order to further determine the practicability of this method of rescuing men from sunken submarines. The tests will be conducted at a depth of 200 feet and should the bell prove successful at this depth, it is planned to construct a stronger bell capable of withstanding pressures at 400 feet, the maximum depth at which subs are designed to operate. Tests are also being conducted with the submarine "lung" to study its operation at great depths.

For Speed, Smoothness and Economy

IT'S WISE TO CHOOSE A SIX

Get out on the straightaway—step on the gas—and you'll know why owners are so enthusiastic about the Chevrolet Six.

At every point on the speedometer you travel smoothly, quietly, safely. You can drive from daybreak to dusk—as fast as you please—and never grow weary of the journey.

This type of performance is only possible because of six-cylinder design. And six-cylinder smoothness makes possible greater economy—for it saves the car from the strain

MONEY AND FOOD

The present business situation is marked by two things.

One is a surplus of money, the other a surplus of food.

By money we do not mean the money which every citizen or may not have. We refer to the accumulated deposits in the great banking houses of the large cities. Money for gambling in stocks in Wall Street has been at the lowest interest rate in years and there has been plenty of it available. However many people seem to have gotten over the stock market craze and comparatively few are taking many chances on stocks.

The surplus of everything grown upon the land has been the serious aspect of the agricultural situation. That surplus has driven down prices, stood in the way of returning land values and it has had its serious effect upon every form of commercial activity.

Now if we can find a way to get that surplus money set at the task of buying surplus food, we shall make progress.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Progress of Senate Battle Over Ratification of the Naval Treaty.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

OPONENTS of the London naval treaty, seemingly aware that there are enough of its supporters in the senate to bring about its ratification, spent last week mainly in devising and offering reservations to the pact. Senator Norris, as well as many others, was still deeply concerned about the secret documents which the President refused to give the senate, and Senator Borah visited the White House to tell Mr. Hoover it might be necessary to accept the Norris rider which says ratification is to be with the understanding that there are no secret agreements.

President Hoover was highly indignant over the implications in this Norris reservation. Since he had given the senate his word that no secret agreement existed, he felt that the rider was a reflection on his good faith. Borah said that if the reservation were rejected he could not answer for the fate of the pact. He did not think it likely that the treaty would be rejected, but he regarded it entirely possible that the supporters of the Norris reservation, if defeated, would be able to prolong the fight indefinitely, if not to bring about a postponement of final action until autumn.

Then Senator Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee came forward with a reservation under the terms of which Great Britain would be required to dismantle her naval bases off American shores.

McKellar offered yet another reservation providing for freedom of the seas, because, as had been admitted by Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, the delegates to the London conference failed to obey the instructions of congress to consider this question before or at the treaty. Both these reservations were opposed by the administration senators.

Senator Watson of Indiana, majority leader, in the effort to speed up action on the treaty proposed a unanimous consent agreement that beginning Tuesday, July 22, debate be limited to ten minutes on each amendment and reservation and on the treaty itself, and that each senator be allowed to speak but once on each. He declared that if this plan were rejected cloture would be invoked, and a petition for this was prepared.

The fact that this petition was signed by not only the 16 names required for its submission, but nearly the two-thirds majority required for its adoption made it certain that the treaty would be ratified with votes to spare.

McKellar for recreation and a much needed rest, President Hoover will start August 15 on a vacation trip that will last only about two weeks. This was announced at the White House, and it was added that the President would make no speeches or public appearances in the various cities he passes through. It is his intention to visit both the Glacier and Yellowstone National parks, but the itinerary has not yet been made out. It was considered likely he would travel by train to Chicago, take a boat from there to Duluth and make the rest of the trip by railway.

Representatives of the Interior department, at the direction of Secretary William, have selected a number of camping sites in the national parks for the use of the Presidential party. Notwithstanding the President's evident intention to avoid political contests during his trip, the Republicans of Montana hope that his visit to that state will help the cause of Justice Albert J. Galen, who has been nominated for United States senator to oppose Senator Thomas J. Walsh. Galen is a moderate and Walsh has been an active and bitter anti-Catholic.

Though, as was said, Mr. Hoover is declining invitations to make speeches, he has tentatively given assurance that he will be present and speak at the dedication of the Roosevelt highway crosses the continental divide in Montana. The date of the dedication, which originally was to have taken place the past week, is to be fixed to suit the President's convenience.

SENATOR ARTHUR CAPPER of Kansas wants the farm board to buy 100,000,000 bushels of wheat, in addition to that already purchased, and he put his plan before President Hoover. The Chief Executive, however, had just had a talk with Secretary of Agriculture Hyde who had returned from a trip to the wheat belt and who was understood to be opposed to such a scheme as Capper proposed. So the President declined to approve the plan, though he told the Kansas he was anxious to do anything desirable to relieve the plight of the wheat growers.

Chairman Legge of the farm board made public his correspondence with Governor Reed of Kansas who criticized the board's plan for reduction of wheat acreage and criticized its activities, or inactivity. In his letter Mr. Legge makes it plain that the grain stabilization activities of the board have undergone no appreciable change in policy in spite of the governor's charges of its having broken the market and caused a record-breaking slump in wheat.

McCormack. That lady while on the stand demanded that the committee summon her Democratic rival for the senatorship, James Hamilton Lewis, and let him explain his statements. She said Springfield to the effect that it cost $1,000,000 to win the Republican nomination. She said Lewis "must have knowledge of expenditures of well over $100,000 more than I have included in my accounting. He should be subpoenaed if he has any knowledge of that sort."

FRANK J. DORGER, majority stockholder in the closed Cosmopolitan bank and trust company of Cincinnati, filed a petition in bankruptcy. Immediately thereafter O. C. Gray, state banking superintendent, stated that a shortage of $2,000,217 existed in the bank. The institution closed several weeks ago as the alleged result of the $1,000,000 check kiting operations of A. W. Shaffer. Examiners also found Dorgers' bank accepted $623,000 take securities from Shaffer. Comment: Plans Judge Stanley Strubel said he would consider a contempt of court charge against Dorgers and his daughter, Martha, who also filed bankruptcy proceedings, because the state had been granted a temporary injunction restraining the Dorgers from disposing of their personal assets.

ACTIVITIES of Communists in the United States are being investigated by a congressional committee which was busy last week in New York city. Most important of the witnesses heard was Charles G. Wood, commissioner of conciliation of the Department of Labor. He said the Communists at work among the labor groups were chronic trouble makers, and described strikes in Russia, New Bedford and Gastonia, N. C., each of which was either started or influenced by the Reds. He declared the strikes, like other activities of the Communists, were but a means of attacking the government of the United States.

FRANCE and Italy last week reached a gentlemen's agreement to take a naval building holiday for six months and there was great relief in European diplomatic circles. The agreement means little from a naval standpoint, for neither nation intended to lay down any more vessels this year, but it was of immense importance psychologically. The statement of both countries now hope to settle most of their problems before the six months are up.

GREAT BRITAIN, still struggling to settle the row in India, has a new trouble on her hands. This is in Egypt, where the World or nationalist party, supporting Nasser Pasha, former premier against King Faud, is stirring up revolt. The first outbreak was in Alexandria, where a fanatic mob of Worldists staged a great riot, attacking Europeans and looting shops. Before native troops and police had regained control of the situation 13 civilians, all Egyptians, had been killed, and at least 40 were wounded by gunshot. About 100 others, including 30 police, were injured in other ways. The British ambassador, Lord Curzon, and his family were hurried to Alexandria.

Latest developments in the Indian affair indicated that Mahatma Gandhi, head of the passive resistance revolt, would be released from prison and invited to participate in the London round table conference that is to open October 1. As a preliminary Gandhi is expected to call off the civil disobedience campaign.

It is also reported in London that, though Prime Minister MacDonald and his colleagues are eager to waive the Simon report they may be forced to face it at the round table because of the determination of certain Indian delegations to have the report accepted as a basis of discussion.

MAKING use of dictatorial power conferred on him by President von Hindenburg under the German constitution, Chancellor Brüning put into effect the "emergency finance law" by decree. The Reichstag had refused to approve the measure and the government lost patience. The law, which is expected to end the government's deficit, includes an increase in income tax, enforcement of a tax on bachelors and spinsters, a head tax and a special tax on food and liquor served in bars and restaurants.

GERMANY'S reply to the memorandum of French Foreign Minister Briand proposing a European federation indicates a general acceptance of the plan, though it has almost as many reservations as the Italian reply. The Germans, like the Italians and some others, insist that Russia and Turkey be included in the union and make it clear the federation should in no way be directed against the United States. They also suggest a revision of the war treaties, but say little of disarmament. The German reply agrees heartily with Briand on the necessity of subordinating economic to political aspects—a view which may prove to be the fatal weakness of the whole scheme.

A "purely tentative" reply from Great Britain was not so encouraging, expressing the opinion that the proposed union is "unnecessary and possibly a dangerous institution." It suggested that the plan be placed on the agenda of the next assembly of the League of Nations.

Greece, Austria and Poland also have accepted the Briand plan, and Russia seems to be fishing for an invitation.

AS USUAL, you can make your own choice as to which faction in China is winning the civil war. Just how things look none too cheerful for the Nationalist government. Dispatches from Peiping say fifteen leaders of the Kuomintang signed a manifesto formally ending the long dispute between the right and left wings of that party, and calling a national conference within a month for the purpose of establishing a government to succeed the false government which Gen. Chiang Kai-shek usurped. It is predicted Gen. Yen Hui-shan will be head of that new government.

DEATHS of the week included those of Brig. Gen. H. C. Smith, U. S. A.; Rear Admiral A. H. Robertson, U. S. N.; Henry Snyder Harrison, novelist; Judge Jesse Holman Fries of the Chicago bench; James M. Lynch, veteran leader of the International Typographical union; and Leopold von Auer, eminent violinist.

SCHOOL FOR SALES AND LUBRICATION ENGINEERS ESTABLISHED BY SHELL

A model school for the training of sales and lubrication engineers has been established by the Shell Petroleum Corporation at South Roxana, Illinois, near the Wood River refinery of the corporation.

In the school, which opened its first term on June 2nd and will continue through July and August, the students, all of whom are university men from some 17 states, and in the regular employ of the company, under the guidance of competent instructors, are taught the theory and practice of lubrication, how Shell products are made, the care exercised in the selection of crude oil, the basis of lubrication, and the methods employed in refining crude oils into lubricants as well as their importance in the field of industrial lubrication.

The students are taught by means of lectures, charts, experimental work and actual contact with refinery practice and operation. The school is a combination of a few technical books and a few technical lectures, and is a very practical one. The modern equipment and methods in use at the Wood River refinery of the Shell Petroleum Corporation near the school, offers the students the opportunity to supplement classroom instruction with thorough practice and this great laboratory enables them to see and closely follow step by step the various refining operations from the crude oil to the finished products, including of course the various cracking processes, and the fractionation of the product into lubricants and fuels.

In speaking of the school, its object and its future, R. J. Stevenson, Director said: "In this era of specialization, we hope to accomplish a number of things, the most important of which, is to develop highly trained men—Sales and Lubrication engineers—capable of going into industrial plants armed with expert knowledge that will enable them to take care of lubrication under any operating condition. Our knowledge of what lubrication means to industry and how indispensable the right kinds of lubricants are to industrial life and progress convinces us that our efforts to train capable sales and lubrication engineers, will not only meet with success, but will have the sanction and support of industry, generally."

The school is housed in a modern, three-story brick building of approximately 30 rooms and is well suited for school purposes. On the first floor is a combination auditorium and dining room, class room, and the offices of the Director of the School. In the basement there is a complete well equipped laboratory for testing oils, experimental work and other activities connected with this phase of the school's work. The two upper floors of the building are used as a dormitory for the students during their attendance at the school. A competent housekeeper and a commissary manager are in charge.

PUBLIC SERVICE BUILDING AT PINES READY SEPT. 1ST

The new public service building at the Hartwick Pines State Park, will be completed about September 1, it has been announced by the Parks Division of the Department of Conservation. The building is located opposite the plat of virgin pines from this park derives its name.

The log structure will contain memorial rooms, rest rooms, and a large recreation room.

At the Island Lake State Park, the Division has just completed the erection of one of the largest bath houses in Michigan, with facilities to accommodate 600 people.

STATE TAX MEN AND BANKERS IN ACCORD

Months of Negotiation Lead to Agreement on Changes Broadening Method of State or Local Taxation of National Banks.

NEW YORK.—Months of conference and negotiation between an American Bankers Association special committee and the Committee of the Association of States on Bank Taxation have resulted in an agreement on a form of amendment to the Federal statute dealing with state or local taxation of national banks that "maintains the integrity of the protective principles of the section and is satisfactory to the commissioners," says the American Bankers Association Journal.

Thomas B. Paton, the organization's General Counsel, in making the announcement says that previously proposed amendments to the statute, which is known as Section 5219, have been opposed when it was felt their banks in a tax class by themselves.

"The law as it stands today," Mr. Paton says, "permits state or local taxation of national banks or their shareholders in one or the other of the four following forms: the shareholders upon their shares—a property tax; the shareholders upon their dividends—a personal income tax; the bank upon its net income; the bank according to or measured by its net income."

Only one form of tax can be imposed, except that the dividend tax may be combined with the third form if other corporations and shareholders are likewise taxed. "The conditions permitted are: the tax on shares must be at no greater rate than on other competing moneyed capital; the income tax on shareholders must be at no greater rate than on net income from other moneyed capital; the tax on bank net income must be at no higher rate than on the financial corporations not subject to the income tax on shareholders; and the tax on bank net income must be at no greater rate than on the financial corporations not subject to the income tax on shareholders."

States Seek Broader Law

National banks and their shareholders are taxed in different states under a diversity of systems, he says. The U. S. Supreme Court has held that the low millage rate on intangible personal property is in violation of the present law where it results in national banks being taxed at a rate greater than that assessed upon competing moneyed capital. A number of states, unwilling to use the income methods permitted, had the alternative of either repealing the intangible tax laws or limiting taxation of national bank shares at the intangible rate. Therefore they sought a broadening of the permissive provisions.

Also, Mr. Paton points out, a Supreme Court decision held a state's excise tax on corporations invalid when it was applied to Federal and local government bonds in the excise measure. This created doubt as to some state bank excise taxes.

"Conferences have been held to reach some agreement which would protect the banks, satisfy the tax commissioners and avoid a contest in Congress," Mr. Paton says. "From the standpoint of the tax authorities, the main objectives have been an amendment which would permit certain states to retain their low rate tax upon intangibles and at the same time derive an adequate, but not excessive, revenue from national bank shares, and an amendment which would permit certain states to tax corporations on their net income, excluding income from tax-exempt, and at the same time derive the same revenue from the banks as heretofore. From the standpoint of the banks, it has been deemed imperative to maintain the protective principles of Section 5219."

The Changes Agreed On

In the proposed amendment the existing provision permitting taxation of bank shares no higher than the rate upon competing moneyed capital has been modified with respect to certain intangible tax states, only by a provision under which, instead of the moneyed capital limitation, the rate shall not be greater than the rate upon the shares of other financial corporations, nor upon the net assets of individuals, partnerships or associations employed in the banking, loan or investment business, nor higher than the rate assessed upon manufacturing and business corporations with head office in the state.

"Also an added fifth alternative permissive method, designated as a special tax, permits a state, in place of an ad valorem tax on bank shares, to add together total dividends paid the preceding year and the increase in capital, surplus and undivided profits, less additions to capital or surplus paid in by stockholders, and to divide this total by the number of shares. The state may tax the shares based upon this amount, but not to exceed the rate on other corporations in proportion to their net profits."

"This method is designed for states which have heretofore taxed national banks upon their entire net income from all sources at a proportionate rate to that assessed upon business corporations. The amount which is the basis of the tax is the equivalent of the entire net income from all sources, but being assessed against the shareholders upon his property in the shares and not a tax upon the bank, it is not open to the objection as an indirect tax or exempt income."

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

It will be easier to break the colt if he is taught the meaning of "giddyap" and "whoa" before he is hitched to the breaking cart. Put on the bridle while he is being taught to lead, so that he may become accustomed to the bit in his mouth.

The consumer who buys honey in small quantities pays an excessively high price, says the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. He may pay twice, and sometimes four times, as much per pound as for the same honey in a tin container holding 2 1/2 pounds or more. Honey in glass costs from 10 to 15 cents more per pound than in tin containers of equal capacity.

The Hessian fly is the worst insect enemy of wheat in the United States. Farmers must depend on preventive measures to control this pest. These include moderately late sowing, rotation of crops, plowing under of stubble, destruction of volunteer wheat, enrichment of the soil, thorough preparation of the seedbed, and good seed.

Expansion of the Federal beef grading and stamping service at additional slaughtering centers has been announced by the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. The centers are Buffalo, Erie, Cleveland, Detroit, and St. Louis. Beef grading and stamping is in increasing demand. There was an increase of 62 per cent over last year in the amount of beef graded and stamped in the last five months.

Don't spray the vegetable garden by the hit-or-miss method, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Control insects and diseases, begin to spray as soon as the trouble first appears. Use good apparatus and spray carefully and thoroughly. The ideal spray is a fine mist which should cover all parts of the plants evenly. Stop spraying before the foliage is drenched. The highest the pressure the better the spray.

Poultry that arrives at the market "overcrowned" may sell for a lower price or may be subject to deduction in weight to allow for the feed in the crops. To prevent this, feed birds liberally just before shipment but put no feed in the crops, if they are to reach the market the same day they are shipped. If they will not arrive at the market for 24 hours or longer, mail in the coop one or two tin cans filled with corn well soaked in water.

Shell Beans Early

Some farmers who find weevils in stored beans or peas that were apparently in good condition when harvested believe that the adult weevils that eat out from the seed "develop from the germ." This is erroneous, says entomologists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Most infestations of weevils in beans and peas start in the field, where the weevils burrow into the seeds, making an almost invisible hole. To avoid weevil infestation, harvest the crop as soon as possible. The seed should also be threshed or shelled at the earliest possible date. Shell the seeds and treat them if weevil infestation is suspected. Weevils in storage may be killed by fumigation with disluphile, carbon tetrachloride, or hydrocyanic acid gas.

No Shelter for Rats

Though rats are probably decreasing in numbers, these pests are still mankind's greatest enemies in the animal world, and man should wage constant warfare against them, says the U. S. Biological Survey. The most important thing in rat control is to remove rat shelters or make them inaccessible. The most common shelters are dead spaces within double walls and beneath floors, stored produce and supplies, lumber piles, and trash or refuse. Abolish the rats' food supply by storing foodstuffs in rat-proof buildings or rooms and by disposing of waste and garbage in tightly covered receptacles. Poisoning, fumigating, and trapping are methods of destroying rats. Small terrier dogs, especially when taught to hunt by themselves, often keep a farm free from rats.

STATE PARKS FULL

The state parks of Michigan were filled with the largest crowds, July Fourth, than at any time since the parks have been organized, in the opinion of P. J. Hoffmaster, superintendent of state parks.

The Fourth of July crowds exceeded even those of Labor Day in 1929, until that time holding record breaking attendance.

"Every available parking space was utilized, every building was crowded and the bathing beaches were filled with people," Mr. Hoffmaster said. Despite the fact that in the more than half hundred bathing beaches, there were thousands of bathers, there were no serious accidents.

With the summer season well under way the number of campers using the parks is growing every week, with little doubt left but that the parks attendance this year will exceed the 1929 season.

France is again said to be in a state of irritation against the United States. But France has never got over her grouse over the sending of two million American soldiers to the western front. Just imagine how sore France would have got if we had sent four million and cancelled all the debt.

News Briefs

THURSDAY, JULY 24, 1930

When a man goes upon a railroad track, he knows that he goes to a place where he will be killed if a train comes upon him before he is clear of the track. He knows that he must stop for the train, not the train stop for him.

Frank Foreman of Bay City called on old friends here Sunday.

Miss Eva Dorr of Grass Lake was the guest of Miss Vella Hermann for the week end.

George L. Alexander was down town Monday. He is recovering from his recent illness.

Miss Coletta Smith of Lansing was the guest of her sister Mrs. Frank Tetu for the week end.

Lawrence Johnson, well known in local golf circles has accepted a position as golf pro at Roscommon.

Emil Niederer and family are enjoying the week at Lake Margrethe, occupying the T. Boeson cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sorenson and Mrs. T. Boeson are spending several days at Grand Rapids, attending a Danish meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Catlin returned to their home in Toledo Saturday after a two weeks visit with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ziebell.

Mrs. Ole Wium of Detroit is spending a couple of weeks at the Ellersson cottage at Lake Margrethe, joining the other members of her family here.

Mrs. A. J. Joseph and children, who are enjoying a sojourn at Torch Lake near Traverse City, as guests of her sister, spent the week end in Grayling.

Charles Fehr and family enjoyed a visit over the week end from his sister, Mrs. Margaret Jakeway of St. Johns and his nephew Edward Moinet of Lansing.

Howard Scarlett and family of Detroit stopped in Grayling Saturday and visited at the home of Wilfred Laurant, enroute to Indian River to spend the week.

Mrs. Ollie MacLeod of Lansing spent the week end at the home of her mother, Mrs. Anna Hermann. She was accompanied by Mr. William Hathaway of the same place.

Jack Hull is spending a couple of weeks at Camp Daggett at Walloon Lake. He was accompanied to the camp by his mother, Mrs. Blanche Hull, Miss Lucinda Collins and Mrs. Agnes McDonald who was a guest of the latter. They made the trip by auto.

GREETINGS to the NEW RIALTO

EVERY community takes pride in keeping abreast with the times in the march of progress, and much has been accomplished in Grayling in recent years of which its citizens may be justly proud.

THERE has been nothing, though, that has been followed throughout with so much interest and satisfaction as the erection and completion of the New Rialto Theatre.

OUR wholehearted congratulations are herewith extended to the management who has made this new theatre possible for Grayling, and our best wishes for their success.
